Hire a Godseye agent to do a specific job for you

Field notes from the Godseye team · 10 min read · Guide

You don't need to learn AI. You don't need a course or a new app. You need someone to do a job. Tell a Godseye agent what you need in Telegram. It does the work. You get the result.

Below are 20 jobs you can hand the agent right now. Some are free. Most cost less than lunch. Each one is a finished outcome, not a tool to figure out.

How it works: Pick a job. If it's free, you get it now. If it costs something, pay the small fee and the agent gets to work. You talk to it on Telegram. No dashboard. No learning curve.

FREE SERVICES

1. A one-page business plan — Free

You have a business idea but no clear direction. You know what you do but you can't explain it in one sentence.

The agent writes a one-page plan. Your value proposition, who you serve, your price range, how you reach customers, and what success looks like.

Tell the agent about your idea. The plan comes back.

→ Free — Try it now

2. A business name suggestion — Free

You have the idea but no name. You've been scribbling notes but nothing sticks. You need ten options, not one hundred.

The agent gives you 10 name suggestions with short explanations of why each works. Clear, memorable, and checked against what's already out there.

Tell the agent what the business does and who it's for.

→ Free — Try it now

3. WhatsApp broadcast messages that don't sound like spam — Free

You send messages to customers on WhatsApp but they all sound the same. Too formal. Too pushy. People read them and don't reply.

The agent writes 10 message templates. For offers, new products, follow-ups, reminders, and thank-yous. Written to feel human.

Tell the agent what you sell and the kind of messages you send.

→ Free — Try it now

LOW-COST SERVICES ($1–$3)

4. Product descriptions that sell — $2 for 10 items

You're selling on Jumia, WhatsApp, Instagram, or your own store. You have the product but the description sounds like you rushed it at midnight.

The agent writes 10 product descriptions that actually sell. Clear, specific, the kind that makes someone stop scrolling and click buy.

Tell the agent what the product is, the price, and who it's for. 10 descriptions come back.

→ $2 for 10 items — Hire the agent

5. Invoice and quote templates — $2

You send WhatsApp messages for pricing and Google Docs invoices that look like they were made in 2014. Your clients don't say anything but you know it doesn't look professional.

The agent builds you clean invoice and quote templates. Branded with your business name. Ready to fill in and send.

Give the agent your business name and logo if you have one.

→ $2 — Hire the agent

6. A social media bio that actually works — $1

Your Instagram or Twitter bio is either empty or a wall of text. People visit your page and don't know what you do.

The agent writes a bio that tells people what you do, who it's for, and why they should follow or buy. Short. Clear. Done in five minutes.

Tell the agent your business and the platform.

→ $1 — Hire the agent

7. A pricing breakdown for your service — $2

You know what you charge but you don't know if it's right. You picked a number and hoped. You want to know what the market actually pays.

The agent researches what similar services charge in your area and writes a plain-English pricing breakdown. What's competitive, what's too low, where you can raise rates.

Tell the agent what you sell and where.

→ $2 — Hire the agent

8. A monthly social media content calendar — $3

You know you should be posting. Every time you open Instagram you stare at a blank screen for ten minutes, close it, and feel guilty.

The agent writes 30 ready-to-post captions with topic ideas. A full month calendar. Copy, paste, post. Done.

Tell the agent your business and the kind of content you want.

→ $3 — Hire the agent

9. An email welcome sequence — $3

You have an email list but you never send anything. Or you send one email and then nothing for three months. The list goes cold.

The agent writes 5 emails. Welcome, introduction, value, soft pitch, follow-up. Ready to send. Written to feel like a person, not a newsletter.

Give the agent your business name, what you sell, and the tone you want.

→ $3 — Hire the agent

10. A Google Business profile description — $1

Your Google Business listing has the default "Add a description" text. People search for your type of business and you don't show up properly.

The agent writes a 750-character description optimized for local search. What you do, where you are, why pick you. Ready to paste into your Google Business profile.

Tell the agent your business name, what you do, and your location.

→ $1 — Hire the agent

MID-RANGE SERVICES ($3–$5)

11. A landing page for your business — $5

You sell a service but you don't have a clean page to send people to. Every time someone asks "do you have a website?" you say "not yet."

The agent builds you a modern landing page. Your business name, what you do, how to reach you, and a call-to-action. Mobile-ready. Delivered to you, not a template you fill in.

Tell the agent your business name, what you sell, your contact info, and one photo if you have one.

→ $5 — Hire the agent

12. A competitor teardown — $3

You know you have competition. You don't know what they're doing better. You check their page sometimes but you don't know what to look for.

The agent writes a breakdown of your top 3 competitors. What they sell, how they price, where they're strong, where they're weak, and where you can do better.

Tell the agent your business and who you compete with.

→ $3 — Hire the agent

13. An SEO report for your website — $3

You have a website but no idea if Google is showing it to anyone. You type your business name and you're on page three.

The agent checks your site and writes a plain-English report. What's working, what's broken, what to fix first, and how. No tech jargon.

Give the agent your website URL.

→ $3 — Hire the agent

14. A list of 50 people who might buy from you — $5

You need clients but you don't know who to call. You post on social media and hope for the best. That's not a strategy. That's waiting.

The agent finds 50 real prospects. Names, what they do, where to find them, why they might need your service. Researched, not random.

Tell the agent what you sell, where you sell it, and your location.

→ $5 — Hire the agent

15. A job proposal or pitch email — $2

You found a client or a gig but you don't know what to say. You've written three drafts and deleted them all. You need something that sounds professional without sounding fake.

The agent writes a proposal or pitch email tailored to the client. Clear, specific, and short enough that they actually read it.

Tell the agent what the job is, who it's for, and what you charge.

→ $2 — Hire the agent

16. A flyer or poster text — $2

You want to print flyers for your business but you don't know what to put on them. You've seen other people's flyers and yours always looks like an afterthought.

The agent writes the full text for your flyer. Headline, subline, bullet points, call-to-action, contact info. Ready to hand to a designer or drop into Canva.

Tell the agent your business, what you're promoting, and where the flyers will go.

→ $2 — Hire the agent

HIGHER-VALUE SERVICES ($8)

17. A full brand identity kit — $8

You're starting fresh. You have a business name (or you don't) and you need everything: logo direction, color palette, fonts, brand voice, and a one-page brand guide.

The agent puts together a complete brand identity brief. What your brand looks like, sounds like, and feels like. Ready to hand to a designer or use as-is.

Tell the agent your business name, what you sell, and who your customer is.

→ $8 — Hire the agent

18. A customer FAQ page — $2

You keep answering the same five questions on WhatsApp. "Do you deliver?" "What are your prices?" "How do I pay?" You're tired of typing the same thing.

The agent writes a clean FAQ page with 15-20 questions and answers. Ready to put on your website, your WhatsApp business page, or send as a document.

Tell the agent your business and the questions people ask you most.

→ $2 — Hire the agent

19. A “resume” for your business — $3

You’re pitching to a corporate client or applying for a vendor spot. They ask for a company profile or business capability statement. You don’t have one.

The agent writes a one-to-two page business profile. What you do, who you’ve worked with (or who you serve), your capabilities, and contact details. Professional enough for a boardroom.

Tell the agent your business, your best work, and who you’re pitching to.

→ $3 — Hire the agent

20. A WhatsApp auto-reply setup — $2

People message your WhatsApp at 2am and get no reply. By morning they’ve gone to someone else. You can’t be awake all the time but your business should be.

The agent writes a set of auto-reply messages for common scenarios. Out-of-hours, order confirmation, “we’ll get back to you,” and follow-ups. Ready to set up in your WhatsApp Business app.

Tell the agent your business hours and the messages you get most.

→ $2 — Hire the agent
